

CALL FOR YOUTH CLIMATE AMBASSADORS!

Are you between 16 and 24 and passionate about the planet? Do you want to use your voice to make a difference? The FirstOntario Performing Arts Centre (PAC) in Downtown St. Catharines is looking for up to 20 young leaders to be ambassadors for the first-ever Art in Action: Climate festival from Jan. 30 to Feb. 8, 2026! Check it out here: www.artinactionniagara.ca.

Perks of being an ambassador

- FREE all-access GREEN Pass to the 10-day festival, including films, performances, exhibits & a climate symposium
- Community hours & FREE snack vouchers for The Film House
- The opportunity to present a group project on the final day

Ready to join the movement? Send us an email to ccarr@firstontariopac.ca that answers the following questions:

1. Why are you interested in becoming an Art in Action Ambassador?
2. How do you feel the arts can help us take action for climate change?

Heads up! As an ambassador, you'll need to commit to attending these events (for FREE):

- Jan. 30: Opening reception and performance.
- Jan. 31: The all-day Climate Symposium
- Feb. 2–6: Attend at least three films.
- Feb. 7: Final group presentation: "Youth in Action: Next Gen Speaks".

Applications are due by 5 p.m. on Nov. 28, 2025, to ccarr@firstontariopac.ca

Attending events at the festival will prepare you for your final group presentation where, together with your fellow ambassadors, you will share your thoughts on important questions, like:

- How can your generation and older generations team up to build a fair and sustainable world?
- How does hearing from people of different backgrounds and cultures change the way you think about climate change?
- If you could give one piece of advice to someone younger than you about climate action, what would it be?
- What other questions did the festival spark for you that you want to talk about?

 Do you have what it takes to be a voice for the next generation? We can't wait to hear from you.
