Overview

KEY FACTS TO KNOW

- Avolta runs duty free across both terminals under the Barcelona Duty Free brand.
- Rather than concentrating luxury into one flagship boutique, BCN builds its high-end shopping into a sprawling mall-style retail avenue in Terminal 1, with Terminal 2 offering a smaller, gate-adjacent version of the same mix.

T1 Terminal 1

El Prat Shopping Avenue — one of the largest airport retail districts in Europe

KEY FEATURES

- Centers on the roughly 25,000 sq m "El Prat Shopping Avenue", spread across multiple floors with around 100 stores.
- The main duty-free store sits on Floor 1 in the Schengen departures shopping area, with a second outlet on Floor 3 in the boarding zone near gate D.

NOTABLE SHOPS

- Luxury names including Gucci, Louis Vuitton, Burberry and Hermès are woven directly into the shopping avenue rather than isolated in a single flagship.

T2 Terminal 2

Handles a larger share of low-cost and charter traffic

KEY FEATURES

- Takes a leaner approach: the duty-free store sits on Floor 1 in the boarding area near gate U, close to the gates rather than integrated into a shopping concourse.

INTERESTING THINGS TO BUY

- Classic categories: fragrance, spirits, food, tobacco, watches and sunglasses.

Other Things to Know

TRAVELER TIPS

- Good place to buy FC Barcelona gear and avoid city shop crowds.
- Purchase artisanal chocolates in unique packaging at Chocolat Factory.
- Purchase Catalan gastronomy and fashion products, and especially great Cava bottles.
